

Application to the Digital POWRR Peer Assessment Program - Phase 1

The Digital POWRR Peer Assessment Program is a supportive, year-long, cohort-based training program for cultural heritage professionals who are interested in learning and applying digital preservation assessment procedures into their work. This program is generously funded by the Institute of Museum and Library Services and will be delivered entirely online.

Please see the following webpage for an overview of the Digital POWRR Peer Assessment program, and the requirements and benefits for participants:
